“ All of the Harrison's will miss Delbert. He was a good, friendly man and a great neighbor. I will miss his occasional visits where we would sit on the patio and talk for a time- usually about some kind of racing. Our condolences to the family who have been such good neighbors all these years. Ret in peace Delbert!

“ In Judaism, death is not a tragedy, even when it occurs early in life or through unfortunate circumstances. Death is a natural process. Our deaths, like our lives, have meaning and are all part of G-d's plan. In addition, we have a firm belief in an afterlife, a world to come, where those who have lived a worthy life will be rewarded.

May G-d bless your soul!
